

Major Updates Were Completed at 2 Ridgewood Road

Seasons greetings! I want to take this opportunity to give a quick update on some of the great work that has been accomplished since the previous Cayugan. The chapter was not occupied by brothers over the summer because of the amount of construction and renovation taking place. We were able to get the house "fully sprinklered" in compliance with Cornell's fraternity recognition mandate well ahead of the 2013 deadline, and we were able to achieve this without incurring additional debt, thanks in no small part to the generous donations of our alumni. Michael West '05 handled coordinating with the contractors on this project, and it went off without a hitch.

In addition to the important sprinkler project, we were able to take the opportunity of a vacant house to tackle some much-needed upkeep items. First, the carpeting throughout the residential section of the house (hallways and bedrooms) was replaced top to bottom. Second, the walls in the bedrooms, stairwells, and hallways in the residential section were washed and repainted, and the floor boards were repaired as needed. Both of these projects were significant undertakings because of needing to relocate all the furniture from the rooms to the Great Hall for the duration of the projects, and then get it all back into the rooms upon completion. A big thank you to Mark Kendall '04 for his significant coordination efforts with respect to these two projects. I'd also like to thank the undergraduates for their collective generosity in helping make these projects possible.

Finally we've engaged with a new cleaning service in a joint-funded initiative between the undergraduates and the housing corporation to keep the 2 Ridgewood Road looking in tip-top shape. This service is meant to supplement the periodic cleaning that the undergraduates do on a responsible and regular basis. I'm hoping this will help to address keeping the house cleanliness up to exceptional standards that we can all be proud of year round.

As always, I would like to thank everyone for continuing to support our chapter on an annual basis even through these challenging economic times. We perpetually have a backlog of items, maintenance, and enhancements that we try to address as funding permits. Our chapter house is a crucial part of our collective fraternity experience, and we all have fond memories of our time living there. It takes a great many resources to keep it running year after year. We couldn't do it without you, and your ongoing support is greatly appreciated!

Improving NY Alpha

The New York Alpha Chapter has approached this school year with an incredible amount of passion and unity. The majority of the younger brotherhood is living in the house and has helped us attain a high-level of closeness that has led us to accomplishing a great deal in only the first few months of the school year. In addition, this year we have established a presence in Collegetown that we hope will lead to a larger spring pledge class.

One priority that the brotherhood has made this year is seeing our brotherhood continue to grow. Coming off an excellent effort this past spring with the recruitment of 13 young men who exemplify the three cardinal principles, the brotherhood has continued our recent success of recruitment with four outstanding individuals signing bids to become members of our chapter. This is the third-largest fall pledge class that we've had since the refounding of our chapter, and it's in large part due to our recruitment chair, Daniel Dworakowski '14. Dan's efforts throughout the beginning of this semester—including an outing to Glenwood Pines and barbecues in the backyard—is a big reason why we were successful, and we are excited to continue our successful recruiting next semester during Rush Week. Dan Balentine '12, who held numerous positions in the previous year, has continued his dedication to the fraternity by taking the role of this semester's Phikeia educator. He has been doing a great job teaching our Phikeia the great history of our fraternity and the importance of being a brother in this house.

Another facet of our fraternity that we as a brotherhood have strived to improve on is our philanthropy and community service. We understand the importance of being a contributor to the Cornell community and the city of Ithaca. Peter Smet '14 has headed this effort as this year's philanthropy chair, creating many opportunities in the first few months. So far, the major events that our brotherhood has volunteered and participated in are: "Jog for Jill" sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta, "Into the Streets"—a community cleanup event in Ithaca, and the Race for the Cure supporting the fight against breast cancer. Brother Smet has done an amazing job as our philanthropy chair, and we look to the next philanthropy chair to continue his work.

Overall, I am very pleased with the growth of the brotherhood in the past couple of years and look forward to the future for the New York Alpha Chapter. We are working on ways to improve our status and involvement with extracurricular activities on campus. We have currently improved our academic status by 15 rankings due to the academic success of the brotherhood, and special thanks to the generosity of Brother Bartels '71 to the house library. As we climb the ladders in many aspects, our main focus is to take the fraternity to even greater heights and more alumni involvement.

President

Major Renovations at the Chapter House

This year, our house at 2 Ridgewood Road has seen truly remarkable changes. Under the direction of the housing corporation (and with the assistance of the undergraduate brothers), this summer we had a complete remodeling of all bedrooms and hallways—including repainting, new carpets, and replacement doors—and the installation of a code-compliant sprinkler system throughout the entire house. Returning for the start of the school year, brothers were unanimous in their appreciation for all of the improvements and the addition of a permanent barbecue (graciously donated by the brothers of Kappa class).

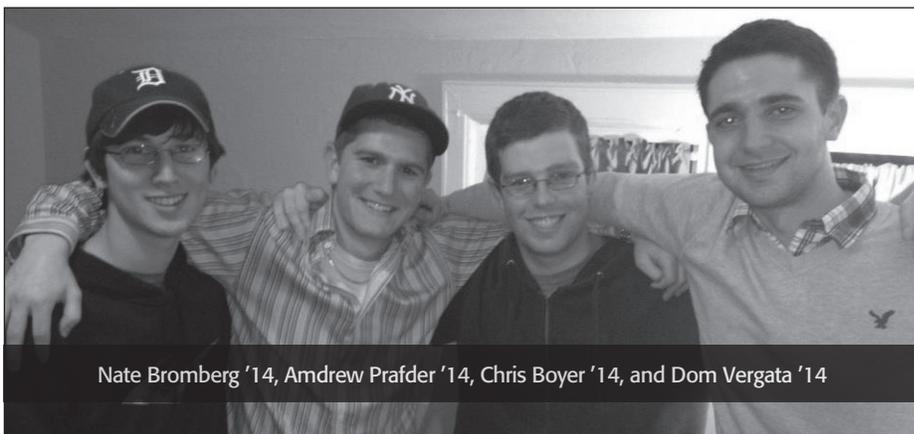

Looking forward, New York Alpha is dedicated to continuing these strings of improvements. Thanks to the initiative of brothers Nick Vasko '15 and Alex Rodriguez '14, we are currently laying the groundwork for the installation of a stone sign at the corner of Ridgewood Road and Thurston Avenue. This stately addition will go above and beyond to give a lasting impression for any visitor to our house.

However, we're not stopping there. During winter break, workers will once again return to repaint the Great Hall, install desk lamps in the library, and rework the computer room with the addition of a closet and improved lighting.

This year has shown the incredible success that emanates from an active and engaged housing corporation and an undergraduate brotherhood united in the goal to make the Phi Delt experience better for every subsequent generation of brothers. With that in mind, we'd like to thank alumni, the housing corporation, and New York Alpha Educational Fund for all of their hardwork and dedication this past year. We look forward to continuing to work with them in the future to make New York Alpha the best it can be.

NY Alpha is Looking for a Faculty Adviser

The year began on an excellent note with the brothers enjoying the result of major facility renovations—affecting aesthetic, safety, and academic elements of the house—that took place during the summer. In early October, we inducted a four-person fall Phikeia class, and look forward to helping the Phikeia develop throughout the pledge process, culminating in their initiation later on in the semester. Many exciting brotherhood events such as movie nights, dinner outings, athletic events, and other social gatherings also kept the brothers busy.

As always, academics continue to be a focal point of the chapter's success. Thanks to the generosity of NYAEFI, a second major upgrade to the computer-room facilities is underway, with emphasis on upgrading computer equipment and improving lighting conditions. We fully expect that brothers will continue taking advantage of the new-and-improved computer room, as well as the academic database. Our search for a faculty adviser, who will serve an advisory role with regards to academic matters, is ongoing, but we are pursuing a few promising leads.

The brothers of NY Alpha are confident that we will be able to bring the semester to a successful close, and carry over the momentum of our achievements this year into the future.

Phi Delts Improve in Academics

These past few semesters have been quite an academic success for our brotherhood. Along with the addition of 13 new brothers this past spring, our chapter was beyond successful in improving our academic ranking from 34th to 15th among all fraternities on campus. With such a strong start leading us into the 2012–2013 academic year, we hope this momentum will carry us to even better standings in the future.

Additionally, we have begun to make our house's academic database portable through an online Dropbox account. This way, our brothers can access old exams and lecture notes as study materials anywhere with internet access. This is particularly useful for brothers who don't live in the house, and it will certainly prove beneficial over mid-semester breaks when most brothers are away from Cornell entirely.

What's more, brothers are enrolled in many courses with one another to promote learning, despite the fact that we embody a diverse range of majors across the university's seven colleges. We've also continued our presence on campus through participation in academic research and working as course TAs. With such strides in progress, we share high hopes that we can uphold these standards for many semesters to come.

Chapter Strives for 100-Percent Participation in Philanthropy Events This Year!

As men of principle and philanthropy, giving back to our community is of utmost importance to our chapter. As Phi and Cornell men, we strive to be the first and foremost in philanthropy on campus.

This semester, we collaborated with other fraternities and sororities to raise money for lung cancer research. Jog for Jill, an organization focused on raising money for lung cancer research, organized a 5K run to benefit one of our fellow Cornellians. Ingrid Nunez was diagnosed with lung cancer, and the Greek community rallied around her to run and raise money to help those also afflicted with lung cancer. Phi Delta Theta had a strong showing and was more than happy to contribute to this great cause.

In terms of our own philanthropy, we are in the process of setting up volunteer opportunities at a local used-clothing center and a cancer research center. Our goal is to get 100-percent brotherhood participation at several points throughout the semester. We are also working on organizing an event to raise money for the ALS Upstate New York Chapter. We want to continue our success from the previous semester and try to raise even more funds for ALS research.

We are very excited about the potential ideas we have right now, and rest assured, we will organize a fun, safe, and lucrative philanthropy event!

New York Alpha Continues to Focus on Brotherhood Bonding

With the addition of 19 new brothers in the previous year's two pledge classes (fall 2011 and spring 2012), New York Alpha has renewed its commitment to creating a lasting, eternal brotherhood by re-emphasizing our focus on brotherhood and camaraderie during our limited time here in Ithaca.

So far this semester, New York Alpha has continued its weekly movie nights—screening a variety of films that highlight the diverse backgrounds and tastes of our growing brotherhood. While it always proves difficult to find a time or movie that suits everyone, there's always excited chatter on what movie to watch next.

Taking advantage of the fall weather and beautiful surroundings here in Ithaca, New York, the brotherhood hosted a cookout and hike through Robert H. Treman State Park—only a few miles from our house at 2 Ridgewood Road—which was well-attended and enjoyed by all. Marveling at the countless waterfalls and natural beauty of the area, brothers were able to leave the ever-connected world of Cornell's campus (there's no 3G service in the woods!) and enjoy one another's company in this natural setting.

Looking forward to the rest of the semester, we're well on our way to planning our winter formal in December. This annual event serves as a culmination of the fall semester and a great final gathering of all brothers before everyone heads home for break.

All in all, this semester has shown how the true bond of brotherhood can overcome any petty bickering or personal disagreements that arise from time to time. The strength of the brotherhood is strong and improving. With this hope, I look forward to my remaining years as a brother of Phi Delta Theta New York Alpha.

Phi Delts Are on the Road to Victory!

Phi Delta Theta has had a successful athletic year so far. After finishing fourth in the all-sports championship the previous year, we are looking to win it all this year. Participation in sports has been the largest in the past three years.

This year, we fielded two football teams—both of which made the quarterfinals—led by Dominic Mendoza '15, Daniel Dworakowski '14, and Peter Berkowitz '14. Beach volleyball was the most successful sport as we took second, third, and fourth behind Dworakowski, Thomas Burton '13, and Edward Pyszczyński '13. We had our first win in two years in outdoor soccer behind co-captains Ian Purnell '14 and Harrison Supnick '14. Four brothers represented Phi Delta Theta in golf: Christopher Boyer '14, Kristian Beall '14, Alexander Rodriguez '14, and Pyszczyński. Pyszczyński and Kelvin Lin '14 represented the house for tennis doubles. Seth Peyla '15 and Dworakowski placed third in fraternity disc-golf doubles.

Currently, we are fielding two teams each in three-on-three basketball, no-tap bowling, and volleyball. We have high hopes in volleyball as we are the defending fraternity champions. We hope to continue our winning ways en route to our first fraternity all-sports championship.

Our Four Phikeia Learn the Three Cardinal Principles of Phi Delt

Friendship, sound learning, and moral rectitude ...

We are pleased to announce the addition of four new Phikeia, who are well on their way to becoming brothers as part of Beta-Beta pledge class. We'd like to introduce Phikeia Calvin DeCarlo '14 (ILR), Evan Hernandez '15 (hotel), Alex Fulmer '15 (hotel), and Kevin Lebron '15 (ILR).

While the fall semester education process is shorter than the spring, the newly inducted Phikeia are quickly getting to know one another as they learn the history of our fraternity and acquire an understanding of the true meaning of brotherhood.

Through a series of events—including the recently complete "Sorority Serenades"—the Phikeia have formed close bonds among themselves and with the undergraduate brotherhood. Looking forward to the rest of the semester, the pledge class plans on refurbishing the back porch as their class contribution to the house.

As the education process finishes up, we are confident that the new Phikeia will demonstrate the three cardinal principles that have united all Phis throughout our storied history: friendship, sound learning, and moral rectitude. We look forward to the day when they will be welcomed as brothers.

Yours in the Bond,
Daniel Balentine '12, 1864
